

Performance Commentary

SKAGEN Insight was not able to keep up with the broader equity market during July. Nevertheless, several of our holdings have announced encouraging results in recent weeks. Newell Brands, Gea Group, Armstrong Flooring and Diebold Nixdorf all posted double digit-gains in response to their second quarter-earnings. This gives us additional comfort that our companies are moving in the right direction and that they remain undervalued in the market.

The standout positive contributor during July was Pasona, our Japanese staffing company, which also released a solid earnings report. The biggest laggards were ThyssenKrupp and Armstrong Flooring – prior to the latter’s surprisingly strong earnings release that sent the stock up as much as 17%. ThyssenKrupp came under pressure despite reports that its break-up plans are progressing, and that it has received strong interest in its crown jewel, the Elevator-division. We continue to see significant upside potential in this situation.

The outlook for the fund remains unchanged; there is a lot of value potential across the portfolio. The vast majority of our portfolio companies, and the progress they have made, remain deeply misunderstood and underappreciated by the market.

SKAGEN Insight invests in a diversified and actively managed portfolio of companies exposed to some of the most attractive activist campaigns globally. Activists seek to unlock value by urging companies to make improvements. SKAGEN Insight "shadows" activists by investing in these companies. The objective is to provide the best possible risk adjusted return. The fund is suitable for those with at least a five year investment horizon.
