

Performance Commentary

EM stocks continued to rise along with global markets in February, supported by signs of progress towards a China-US trade agreement. After taking the reins of Kon-Tiki in 2H18, we spent time repositioning the portfolio by adjusting position sizing and adding new holdings. These changes are now yielding results, at the same time as we see some tailwind from our value philosophy. Kon-Tiki outperformed its benchmark in February and over the past six-month period.

Some of our newest positions were amongst the top contributors in February. Ping An Insurance, China's largest listed financial conglomerate, is quickly approaching our price target after steady delivery. In 2H18, we substantially added to our position in UPL, an Indian integrated crop solutions company, and solid execution has led to strength since then. Wuliangye Yibin, a Chinese white liquor producer, issued a positive profit alert in February. We entered the position at the end of 2018, and it has since gained more than 50%. Our copper miner Ivanhoe, bought in 2H18, has shown unprecedented exploration success leading to reduced operational and political risk. EM equities are attractively valued compared to DM. At 8.3x 20e P/E and 1x P/B, Kon-Tiki's value based philosophy is reflected in a more than 20% and 37% discount to EM.
