

Performance Commentary

Emerging markets outperformed in October as other regions sold off on growing COVID-19 cases and US election uncertainty. EM has now outperformed DM year-to-date. Naspers was positive on announcing a buyback program and Tencent strength. MultiChoice was boosted by speculation as Canal+ acquired shares and Samsung's strength continued following its positive outlook for 2021. Atlantic Sapphire's recent pullback created a buying opportunity, particularly given the lack of negative news. Indian agrichemical producer UPL was weak despite healthy earnings and Brazilian grocery retailer GPA retreated despite solid results and last month's spin-off. We exited MultiChoice and Samsung SDI as they exceeded our targets and Bangkok Bank was recycled into new investments with higher potential. We added electronics manufacturer Hon Hai and its Chinese subsidiary Foxconn Industrial Internet as a cheap way to gain exposure to 5G, server strength and the new iPhone cycle. WH Group, the world's largest pork company, was also acquired at a very compelling valuation. We believe a generational opportunity in value stocks is approaching, combined with attractive cyclical risk/reward EM dynamics. At 9x 21e P/E, Kon-Tiki trades 30% below the MSCI EM index, despite higher expected growth and returns for our handpicked companies.

The fund selects low-priced, high-quality companies, mainly in emerging economies.

The objective is to provide the best possible risk adjusted return.

The fund is suitable for those with at least a five year investment horizon.
